

5 October 1992

Dear Casey:

It has just come to my attention that Jim Macry failed to refund $184 to Jack Brakebill when Jack had to cancel out late on the Pittsburgh reunion.

Jack's wife had become seriously ill very suddenly, which brought about the cancellation, and she later succumbed to her illness.

Please send Jack a check for the $184, and charge it to the Pittsburgh reunion, if you can still do so; otherwise, catalog it as a miscellaneous item.

It has never been the Group's policy to withhold refunds for any reason. WE have always felt that such moneys as are spent on our reunions come from individuals, not from businesses or institutions. Thus, we have always been abbit more generous than many on such matters.

Jack's address is E622 Pointes Dr. West, Shelton, WA 98584/

Sincerealy yours,

