it will be ready for the dedicatory event planned for Friday morning, Sept. 6. Following the dedication services, there will be a social hour and luncheon in the Officers' Club at the Academy.

Committee members working with Montoya include Col. Walter H. Coons, Joe P. Gabrish, LTC Joseph J. Marciano, Robert F. Proctor, and Ryan. There are others living in Colorado Springs who may assist the committee as time draws near.

Again, advance registrations are sought, with a registration fee to be that it exists at all. Most military associations with sporadically published flyers to get the word out. We have a full-blown newspaper! This new publication is well suited to our needs. For subway travel, it is easy to fold and read while swaying to and fro. For those of us whose eyes are no longer what they once were, the quality of paper is a relief for eye strain and a marked improvement over the days when Echoes was a mere flyer. One major difference between our newspaper and the old Echoes is that our paper is read over our morning coffee is that our paper is not a package or for scolding the dog. It winds up in a bulky file which is slowly becoming a First Over Germany.

Without Echoes I do not believe we would be the men we are today. Echoes has done its job and is perceived as a medium of communication to our
