Dear Bill,

I have recently moved to North Carolina from the Cleveland, Ohio area. A short time ago I met a retired Airforce Master Sargent who participates in reunions with his previous Airforce buddies.

I have always wanted to try to contact my crew but did not know how to go about it. Pete gave me your name and address and suggested I write to you.

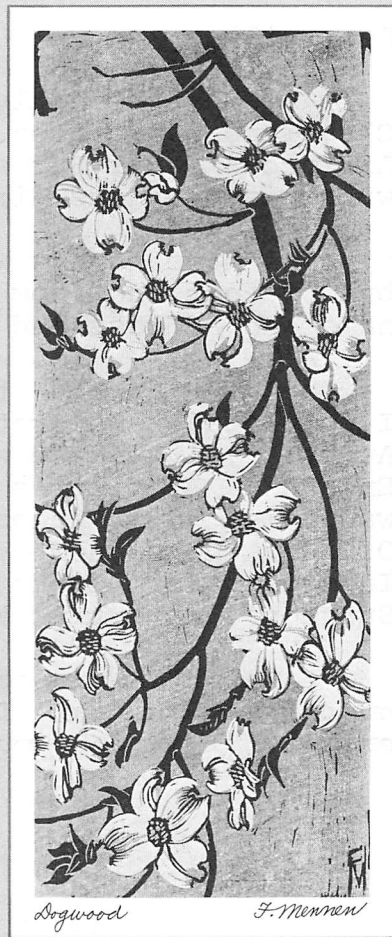

I was in the 8th Airforce 306th Bomb Group (H). I completed 32 operational missions. My last one being August 8, 1944. We were at Thorligh Field, Bedford, England. My pilot's name was Bill Breslin. Our B-17 was named "St. Anthony". The name of the Commanding Officer who signed my "Returnies to the Zone of the Interior" form looks like "Mauri Saluda", the Flight Surgeon's name looks like "James E. McCluny.

I would be most appreciative if you would send me any information you might have. I would certainly like to attend the next reunion if I possibly could.

Sincerely,

PAUL A. MORABITH
