Dear Sir;

I have recently reestablished contact with ~~another~~ another member of my crew. I lost contact with him as he worked for a large oil company and was moved to various locations around the world. He was co-pilot on my crew and I do not see his name listed anywhere in the Directory. His name and address is as follows:

H. J. Morere
1508 E. 2nd St.
Pass Christian, Ms. 39571

Sincerely,

Roy E. Trask

Joe Belker also lives in Quincy, Ill. but I do not have his address.

You have my navigator's address, Guy J. Lateano, who told me about the reunions which I've attended the last ~~two~~ years.

I know one of my crew is dead and have lost track of the co-pilot H.J. Morere and bombardier George Kerr. The last I heard of Morere was several years ago when he and his wife were living in Paris, France. George Kerr was living in North Carolina but I do not know what town.

See you at the reunion in September.

Regards,

Ray Trask

Dear Sir:

As requested in the last 306th Echoes I submitted the news story about our upcoming reunion to our local paper. Though it was reduced considerably it did appear in both our morning paper "The Clarion-Ledger" and our evening paper "The Jackson Daily News". These two papers are the largest papers in Mississippi and are distributed throughout the state.

Enclosed is a clipping of the story which was in the papers on July 23, 1987.

Since this was only yesterday I have not heard from anyone as yet, except the wife on a member who died several years ago.

Sincerely,

Roy E. Trask
