SUGGESTION BOX:

SUGGESTION: "Dear Sirs: Could some of us who feel like we've been forgotten on the going home process, get some sort of an idea on when we'll go. Couldn't some one let us know why certain spec numbers are being called and others aren't. Lots of us have over 100 points, not counting the two latest stars. If we could get some explanation on the deal of going home we'll feel much better. The situation now is most discouraging and some encouragement from some one who knows would help out very much."

ANSWER: Eventually all critical scores men will be given consideration. Yes, SD says "eventually". Why? The film "On to Tokio" gave us the answer. Higher Hq dictates which spec numbers are eligible to go probably on the basis of replacements available to them and in order for this group to complete mission - replacements are necessary.
